RAILROADS OF NATION SPENDING ONE BILLION, FIVE HUNDRED AND FORTY MILLIONS ON NEW EQUIPMENT IN 1923

New York, April 5.—More than $1,500,000,000 is being spent by railroads through the country for new equipment to prevent possible paralysis of traffic this fall.

In announcing an appropriation of $440,000,000 for new engines, freight and passenger cars, trackage and other equipment, railroad executives attending the conference of the American Railway Association here today also announced adoption of a program to facilitate traffic movement until the peak is passed this fall.

Booms And Slumps; How To Beat Them

President's Unemployment Conference Makes Report And Suggests Remedies

By JAMES T. KOLBERT
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, April 5.—Nine remedies for preventing recurrent periods of business "depressions" and unemployment were suggested in a report of a special committee appointed by President Harding's unemployment conference about a year ago to make study of this problem.

The report was made public by the White House. The suggestions were:

1. Control of credit expansion by banks generally.
2. Possible control of inflation by the Federal reserve system.
3. Control by individual business men of the expansion of their own industries.
4. Control of public and private construction, including construction by public utilities, at or near the peak of the business cycle.
5. Construction of public works in the depression.
6. Unemployment reserve funds.
7. Federal and state employment bureaus.

Commenting on the report, Secretary of Commerce Hoover said:

Broadly, the business cycle is a constant recurrence of irregularly created booms and slumps.

The general conclusion of the committee is that as the slumps are in the main due to the wastes, extravagance, speculation, inflation, overproduction, and inefficiency in production developed during the booms, the strategic point of attack, therefore, is the action of these evils, mainly through provision for such current economic information as will show the signs of danger and its more general understanding and use by producers, distributors, and banks, inducing more constructive and safe policies.

"Furthermore, the committee has developed some constructive suggestions has to the deferment of public work and construction work of large public service corporations to periods of depression and unemployment, which, while in the nature of relief from evils already created, would tend both by their subtraction from production at the peak of the boom and addition of production in the valley of depression toward more even progress of business itself.

Contribute to Stability.

"The report does not suggest panaceas or economic revolution but seeks to drive home the facts that the enlargement of judgment in individual business men as to the trend of business and consequent widened vision as to approaching dangers will greatly contribute to stability and that the necessary information upon which such judgments can be based must be systematically recruited and distributed.

"The investigation, shows that many firms have pursued such policies and have come through the recent period of business disaster with success and stability and that ignorance of determinable facts accounts for the disasters to many others.

"The whole problem belongs to a vast category of issues which we must as a nation confront in the elimination of waste if we are to maintain and increase our high standards of living. No waste is greater than unemployment, no suffering is keener or more fraught with despair than that due to inability to get jobs by those who wish to work."

12 LIVES LOST AND VILLAGE DESTROYED IN LOUISIANA STORM

Alexandria, La., April 5.—Twelve persons lost their lives and fifty were injured in a tornado which struck Pineville near here last night, police announced.

Several persons are missing and the number of dead may be increased. Pineville was demolished in the wake of the tornado which passed through Texas and Louisiana. Business houses on Main street and scores of residences were demolished. A number of houses were partially wrecked.

Warrants Probably Next Step Against Income Tax Dodger

Washington, April 5.—More than 200,000 warrants against tax dodgers probably will be issued by the federal government in an effort to force the prompt payment of hundreds of millions of dollars in back taxes. By this concentrated effort throughout the country the tax dodgers may be so swelled that a large part of the government's financial obligations for this fiscal year may be wiped out. Full reports of collections made are not expected until late in the month.

KLUX OFFICIALS EMBEZZLED SAYS SIMMONS' AIDE

Atlanta, Ga., April 4.—Warrants were issued late today for N. N. Furney, cashier of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, charging him with embezzlement of $80,000 and for T. J. McKinnon, chief of the investigating department, charging embezzlement of $20,000, according to the sheriff's office. The warrants were sworn to by T. J. Jones, associate of Emperor T. J. Simmons.

Associates of Simmons said that the charges against the two officials followed a day of investigation at the imperial palace while Simmons was temporarily in charge yesterday.

CARNARVON DIES OF INSECT BITE GOTTEN IN TOMB

Cairo, Egypt, April 4.—The Earl of Carnarvon died peacefully at 2:00 o'clock this morning. He was unconscious almost to the end. His death was due to blood poisoning through the bite of an insect with the later development of pneumonia.

A Conan Doyle's Theory.

New York, April 5.—Powerful "elementals" or spirits placed on guard by Egyptian priests to protect the tomb of King Tut-an-kh-amun have caused the death of Lord Carnarvon, discoverer of the Pharaoh's resting place, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle declared here today.

These "elementals," Sir Arthur, world's most noted exponent of spiritualism, explained, are not spirits in the ordinary sense in that they have no souls. Conan Doyle declared the ancient Egyptians knew more of occultism than do moderns.

"The ancients were very anxious to protect the tomb of their kings," Conan Doyle stated. "There is reason to believe that they placed 'elementals' on guard and such may have caused Lord Carnarvon's death."

G. O. P. WILL AVOID OPEN SHOP PLANK IN '24 CAMPAIGN

Augusta, Ga., April 5.—The Republican Party will not champion the open shop nor anti-strike legislation in its 1924 presidential campaign, members of President Harding's victory party here declared today.

This was in response to a statement by Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor warning that American labor is ready to meet the issue.

Opponents of organized labor, Gompers stated, have urged the President to make the open shop and anti-strike legislation issues of the Republican campaign. The President today refused to comment on Gompers' statement.

The President's political advisors believed Gompers' statement and warning unwarranted. They hold that neither the President nor party leaders have entertained thoughts of antagonizing labor secretly or openly.

WILLING TO BE WET TO WIN. IT IS SAID OF THE DEMOCRATS

Washington, D. C., April 5.—An old-fashioned "wet and dry" fight is now looming up as the real bone of contention in the next Democratic national convention.

An increasing number of Democratic politicians, who, a few months ago shivered at the mere suggestion of a wet plank, are giving more and more consideration to the question of inserting a declaration for modification of the Volstead act in the party's platform.

Their strategy is based on the belief that victory can be won by a combination of the solid south with the thickly-populated states of the east where "wet" sentiment refuses to die out.

Beyond all doubt the wet movement within the Democratic party will cause William Jennings Bryan as leader of the dries to make another of his great fights for a "bone-dry" platform.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

MAN FLOGGED BY BAND OF MASKED MEN HAS UNTIL TEN O'CLOCK TONIGHT TO LEAVE MACON FOR HOME IN N. Y.

Macon, Ga., April 5.—Lynnwood J. Bright of New York, who was flogged by a band of masked men must leave town before 10:00 p. m. today or he will be made to suffer further punishment by the whipping party.

Bright and Mrs. Frederick Pace of New York were forcibly taken from the latter's automobile, placed in another machine and driven to a lonely spot on the edge of Macon where the man was beaten with a horse whip and the woman forced to look on. Then the pair were left to walk back to town.

Mrs. Pace stated she had been told the flogging was administered because Bright allowed a negro to testify for him in his divorce suit Tuesday.

It was through the plea of Mrs. Inez Peters that the state of New York reopened the investigation in the killing of her son, Clarence Peters (right), and the dismissal of an indictment against Walter S. Ward, heir to millions, who, officials said, admitted the shooting of Peters.

NO QUAIL WILL BE AVAILABLE THIS YEAR FOR PENNA.

Harrisburg, Apr. 5. (United Press.)—A Mexican embargo on the exportation of quail has made impossible any restocking of quail in Pennsylvania this year, the Game Commission announced today.

In previous years all quail secured for the restocking of game in this state were bought in Mexico. Last year 15,000 birds were secured from this source and 12,000 were ordered this season. However, a new national decree was promulgated in Mexico forbidding the exportation of quail and putting an end to the trade. Efforts of American business interests in Texas who had been engaged in buying Mexican quail for shipment to various states in this country to have the decree rescinded were unsuccessful.

Until this trade in Mexican quail was stopped Pennsylvania was the largest single purchaser, providing a market for nearly 20 per cent of the output. Texas live game wholesalers secured the quail from Mexican peons living near the border and reshipped the birds to this and other states for restocking purposes.

The peons are said to trap the live quail in fibre or cornstalk cages. Some of these traps are contrived with bait attached to notched sticks at the end, when six or eight birds enter the enclosure and begin pecking at the food the door drops shut. Other traps are arranged with a string which the peon trapper lying in the sun some distance away jerks when he observes his trap encloses several birds.

They gave as the reason for prohibiting the trade the fact that the business had grown to such proportions that the region was being stripped of quail. Americans whose trade was cut off by the decree assert however that Mexico's stock of quail was not being appreciably diminished and that the embargo was only an expression of Mexican resentment on account of the refusal of the United States to recognize the Obregon government.

Minister Lays Down Ten Excellent Items For The Guidance Of The Young

Boston, April 4.—"When, Who and How to Marry" was the title of a sermon delivered to his congregation recently by the Rev. Arthur T. Brooks of Dudley Street Baptist church, Roxbury.

In the sermon Dr. Brooks expounded five don'ts for men and a like number for women. Those for the men were:

- "Don't marry a pretty face—sweetness and character are preferable.
- "Don't marry for fun—marriage is a God-given, serious contract.
- "Don't think you are marrying an angel—your girl is as human as you are.
- "Don't marry merely a pair of winged feet—they do not usually harmonize with the kitchen floor.
- "Don't have long engagements—they're wearing on the poetry of life."

Following are his don'ts for women:

- "Don't marry a man to reform him—better women than you have failed on that job.
- "Don't marry 'a-dashing-good-time' sort of chap and expect happiness. A steady-going, temperate man wears better in double harness.
- "Don't marry a 'meal ticket' unless you have to. God meant you for better things. Keep your self-respect.
- "Don't marry except on a 50-50 basis—remember in the twentieth century you are as important as your man.
- "Don't marry for money—love is always the best."

Mrs. B. O. Williams and son Crawford and Mrs. James McPherson spent Easter in DuBois with Mrs. Ernest Gruver.

YOUNG WOMAN OF CURWENSVILLE TAKES OWN LIFE

Following Quarrel With
Husband, Who She Hit
On Head With Poker,
She Takes Fatal Potion

HAD STORMY LIFE

Should "21" marry "60"? That question seems to have been answered negatively by the very unfortunate outcome of a domestic quarrel in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Bainie at Curwensville which occurred Monday evening and terminated in the death of Mrs. Bainie at the Clearfield hospital yesterday afternoon.

Monday evening the couple had a very violent quarrel at their home on what is known as the "South Side" of Curwensville. It is said that they quarreled frequently and had done so ever since their marriage something over a year ago. During this quarrel the young woman hit her spouse over the head with an iron poker, cutting a gash in his head. Her husband pulled himself together and started over town for medical attention and to have his wife arrested for assault.

During his absence the infuriated woman drank a quantity of cyanide lye. When her plight was discovered a physician was summoned who saw at a glance that her efforts must be made to save her life and she was immediately sent to the Clearfield hospital where she was ensnared late yesterday afternoon.

Her husband, Alex Bainie, is a man of about sixty years of age. His not his family name but one assumed because of the pronunciation of real name being difficult. He was only 22 years of age when he died and was only 21 when married. The disparagement of age and the allegation that her marriage was prompted by parental desire and arrangement is said to have led to a very unhappy existence.

Mrs. Bainie's maiden name was Josephine Slimoczek. Her parents lived at Curwensville. The remains were prepared for burial by Funeral Director Doverspike of Curwensville and the funeral will be held from Curwensville Catholic church tomorrow morning at nine o'clock with interment in the Clearfield cemetery.

LIES SENT FATHER TO JAIL

Girl Confesses She Perjurated Because He Was Strict.

Kansas City, Mo., April 4.—Dolly Kemp, 15 years old, plotted the fictitious evidence which sent her father, Isaac Kemp, of Wolcott, Kan., to the Wynadotte county jail for a year's imprisonment last January.

She concocted the tale, she says, all because her father discovered she played with boys instead of going to church.

The girl made the statements to welfare officers when she learned she was to be sent to the house of correction. Petition for the parole of her 50-year-old father has been filed.

"Pa never let me play with the boys after he learned I didn't go to church," Dolly said. "He made me mad, and so I began to lie to the neighbors about how bad he treated me."

Dolly charged her father with assault. Backed up by neighbors, Dolly's testimony sent him to jail.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c.

Clean Kidneys By Drinking Lots of Water

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys If Bladder Bothers or Back Hurts

Eating too much rich food may produce kidney trouble in some form, says a well-known authority, because the acids created excite the kidneys. Then they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region, rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, begin drinking lots of good water and also get about four bunches of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to neutralize the acids in the system so that they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts can not injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

OVER ONE HUNDRED ATTEND CONFERENCE ON CHILD WELFARE

Over one hundred people attended the sixth Inter-County Institute on Child Care held today at the Hotel Fort Sanwix, Johnstown, under the auspices of the State Department of Public Welfare.

The luncheon meeting was addressed by Dr. Ludwig E. Bernstein, Executive Director, Federation of Jewish Philanthropies, Pittsburgh. Dr. Bernstein vigorously emphasized the responsibility of Boards of Trustees in relation to the dependent children whose care they have assumed.

The morning session was opened by a roll call of delegates. Miss Mary S. Labaree, Director of the Bureau of Children, who presided, explained that this was one of a series of Inter-County Institutes being conducted throughout the State in an effort to build up a better mutual understanding between the State Department and private agencies and to help in determining minimum requirements of child labor.

The chief address of the morning session was on "Knowing Our Children" by Mr. David J. Terry, Executive Secretary, Children's Service Bureau, Pittsburgh. He emphasized the importance of a thorough knowledge of the individual child before deciding upon admission to an institution as well as a basis of intelligent care during its stay.

Attention was called to the fact that the Bureau of Mental Health of the Department of Public Welfare is establishing mental health clinics throughout the State and already has twenty-two clinics in operation. These in the section represented at the Conference are at Altoona and Greensburg with others under advisement. A study of the mental capacity and behavior problems of children will be increasingly possible as a help to many agencies in the study of their wards.

The chief speaker of the afternoon was Miss Emily F. Morrison, Sleight Farm, Darlington, Delaware Co., whose topic was "Children's Records vs. Financial Records." She made a plea for the same accuracy in keeping of children's records as institutions usually desire for their financial records.

Sleight Farm has annually one record system and Miss Morrison drew upon her experience with this system in emphasizing the part records can play in the intelligent planning for each child. She demonstrated that it is not just a matter of filing away data but the means of supplying a definite help in making decisions for the child's future.

The Johnstown Public Library co-operated by sending books helpful to Managers of Child Caring Institutions and Agencies.

Mr. John F. Landis, Secretary of the Johnstown Associated Charities, has been assisting with the local arrangements.

The next Inter-County Institute will be held in Philadelphia on April 25th.

A FINE LETTER ON THE GOLDEN WEST

Los Angeles, Calif., March 27.
Just as in the days of yore,
There is romance in a smile,
There is gladness every mile,
As modern emigrants understand
And passing wave a hand—
Recalling travels of pioneers gone before.

After one has crossed our country by automobile, viewing first hand the different communities along the way, which patriotism makes you love as you do your native one, motor tours over the most wonderful network of surfaced highways the world has to offer soon inspires you with a desire to participate in the progress of a marvel city, whose building construction for the past year has mounted over eleven and one quarter millions. Such is Los Angeles which embraces a great part of Los Angeles county excluding the mountains.

Citizens here are imbued with the enthusiastic spirit of accomplishment, which is difficult to understand even when its effects are observed. It takes mammoth enterprise and wonderful energy to build towns in several months, about the hem of the Lady of the Angels skirts.

Writing as one belonging to the comparatively recent arrivals, who compose the majority of our population, I'm in the "old-timer" class in spirit, you know, having become a confirmed Californian before being here a year.

After being here a number of years my impressions still have a keen edge, which time and familiarity have blunted for the pioneers of ten years or more. Progress is so rapid in this golden climate, I sense the investment advantages, in real estate especially, which make one heartsick at not having the opportunity to grasp them.

California is not fettered in a groove of habits and customs revered for decades and decades because they are conventional. There is no tread-bareness here; but rather aggressive ness, which in the end must be laudable. The centuries of traditional background way of living is not the rule here, on account of the majority of the people being new arrivals.

The real Californians, native sons and daughters' descendants of the Spanish regime and the remnant of the early argonauts, have more centuries of rich and more colorful historical background than our people living adjacent to the Atlantic seaboard. However, the consummation of the early activities here was not so glorious as in the forming of the hub of our republic.

It certainly must be that the people here do not realize that their civil, commercial and greatly increasing industrial activity is making history in this golden harvest section which is destined to foster five million souls within a remarkably short time.

It is little wonder that the world has taken note of Southern California's progress, her harbor being next in imports and exports to that of Boston.

A culture is here nurtured which shall add to the spiritual welfare of the community. From whence do you wish to derive your inspiration? Shall it be from Los Angeles and Orange counties of Southern California? It is a glorious privilege to live here, and I trust my stay shall be prolonged, until in ripe age I may

Head or Tail?
Do you know it is possible to tell whether a spinning coin will land head or tail? Before spinning the coin make a small nick at one of the edges, so that a tiny point of metal protrudes. Suppose the nick has been cut on the edge of the head side. If the coin is spun it will settle down gradually in the ordinary way if the notched side is upward, but should it be underneath, the notch will make a sound as it strikes the table and the coin will settle down quickly.—Tit-Bits.

Don't Get Up Nights
This Symptom Tells You There Is Danger Ahead. J. H. Dorton Relieved at Seventy.

J. H. Dorton, W. Graham, Va., says: "I was told that getting up nights was a disease that belonged to old people. I have found different. I have taken Little's Backache Kidney Pills a short time and now I am normal. I had to get up 7 or 8 times a night. I have been troubled for 40 years. Will gladly tell anyone personally." Little's Backache Kidney Pills act on the kidneys and bladder like a magnet on the bowels. It cleans them out, relieving the bladder of many abnormal deposits. These pills are useful for relief. The formula is possible to place in the formula several drops of the pills on the package. It is not likely you have ever taken anything similar. Try a few tablets for backache, swelling, scanty or high-colored urine, and frequent desire at night. Be sure to get the Keller formula. Little's Backache Kidney Pills, or write Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsville, O., or locally at Stewart's Drug Store.

Curwensville's Own Column

Curwensville council met in regular session Monday evening and finished up the budget that had accumulated during the month of March. Those who answered roll call were President Hest, Sweney, First Ward, and Moore Edwards, and Smeal, Second Ward. The minutes of a previous session were read by Secretary Dale and no objections or corrections to the same arising were reported.

No report was presented by street committee relative to the work to be done adjacent to the ice factory by Harvey Cook & Son on Filbert street, hence the committee was continued and asked to make a report on the same at May session.

Paul M. Mitchell who is establishing a public garage on Filbert street, was present and asked permission to put in a gasoline tank long curb line in front of said building. Was informed that he could put one in at his own risk, same as others had done, but council refused to give sanction to permit as endorsed by that body.

Messrs. C. O. Norris and John Pifer were present and asked council if there was a possibility of having Thompson street paved this summer from intersection of State street to the turn at Comeory and George streets, the work to be done on the same conditions and basis as that done on Walnut at last fall. Council asked that a petition signed by the residents and property owners on said street be presented and that the same would be given due consideration by that body.

A citizen who is erecting a dwelling house on Meadow street asked for a drain from his property to connect with one at foot of Thompson street. Action deferred until said petitioner consult with adjacent property owner, and then report results to Councilman Smeal.

Complaint from a citizen on Irvin street that he was complying with all borough requirements and that he had no privileges such as light, fire protection or police protection, for all of which he was paying his share of taxes. Asked council to intercede with J. O. Griffith to do certain things in order that improvements to property could be advanced.

R. K. Way asked that a certain portion of North street, paralleling his lot, be improved by a terra cotta drain, in order that water accumulating in the ditch might be taken care of. Referred to street committee, who will meet with Mr. Way and go over the proposed line and ascertain just what can be done.

Burgess Erhard was present and asked that a better fire alarm system be installed, the old one being inadequate and unreliable. Suggested that an electric siren system be put in and one that could be connected up with both telephone offices. He also asked privilege of putting up two large signs over sidewalk at the gas station. This council refused as ordinance prohibits placing signs overhead on sidewalks. The placing of posts at the turntable was also voted down. Secretary authorized to have posters printed and stuck up at convenient points near gas station, reading "No turning here under a heavy penalty."

Councilman Edwards reported that the Bartelle & Dotz garage on Filbert street are not complying with a request to keep the sidewalk free from obstruction nor the alley a free passageway.

Committee appointed at March session to examine into the condition of certain water plugs made no report on same and were continued until that duty be performed.

Councilman Sweney reported that sewer committee had engineers go over the ground of the proposed underground sewer on Scofield street and as soon as arrangements could be closed with land owners along said line, work would be started.

Complaint was made of the condition of the railroad crossing near the Elk tannery, it being in a dangerous condition for horses and vehicles.

Street commissioner instructed to examine drain, reported by Councilman Smeal, located on the south end of Susquehanna avenue, the same backing water and forcing damper under state highway.

Paul Dale, Anderson street, asked permission to lay a terra cotta drain in front of his property, the expense to be borne by him individually. Referred to street committee.

Councilman Sweney, representing the Fire Department, asked council to purchase two play pipes, one electric lantern and one record book. A street spray nozzle was also asked for to be used in flushing the streets. Both requests granted and purchase ordered.

The question of street repair work was brought up and after explanation and discussion street commissioner was ordered to make same leading from B. R. & P. station to the borough line down state highway.

Communication read as coming from the owner of the water company, asking for a new contract with borough, either by contract or on rate system. Mr. Thompson asked to meet with council at some future meeting to discuss the matter.

Barnhoof asked permission to establish a mail box on Bloomington avenue. Granted, provided that same does not in any way interfere with traffic on that portion of the highway.

A resolution was passed unanimously that street commissioner be directed to remove all ashes and other debris from the streets and alleys, the same to be charged to the account of the property or those responsible for it being there. The street commissioner will enforce this resolution most rigidly.

A general clean up week was decided on, the time being at the same date Clearfield is engaged in that work. There will be six days of this campaign, each day being devoted to the cleaning up of some particular job. One day devoted to cellars, the next to yards, lots, etc., until everything is spick and span all over town.

Bills were presented and ordered paid as follows: Rorabaugh Agency, balance, $3.96; Curwensville Cemetery Co., 1921-22, $150.00; H. & C. T. & H. Co., $39.33; Fern Public Service Co., $248.43; Rescue H. & L. Co., $9.00; C. Q. Morris, coal, $17.19; Curwensville Electric Co., $16.00; street commissioner, $100.00; Police-man Clark, $100.00; road work, labor, etc., $39.91.

The Rorabaugh agency will soon vacate their room in the Robison house and occupy a more convenient suite in the Spencer block, corner of State and Filbert streets.

Mrs. William Able died at the Clearfield hospital yesterday afternoon. She was the wife of the manager of the A. & P. store here, and during her residence in this town made many warm friends. Her body was brought to her home in Curwensville.

Mothers and daughters will hold a meeting on Friday afternoon at 2:30 in the Presbyterian church. Mrs. Helen Streeter of the Woman's Board of Missions from New York will speak.

Power of the Sea. At some places the force of the sea dashing on the rocks of the shore is said to be 17 tons to the square yard. Indianapolis News.

Cornish Tin Miners.

The men who work in the Cornish tin mines are a class by themselves, and all their differences are adjusted by the stannary courts, as they are called from the Latin word stannum. These curious courts have existed in their present form since the middle of the Thirteenth century, and, in a simpler form, much earlier, and the miners claim to be free from all other jurisdiction, "except in matters affecting the land life or limb."

Do You Know?

BY UNITED PRESS

Who is the best outfielder in the major leagues?

A BETTOR

It is all a matter of individual opinion, there is no standard way of determining all the factors that enter into a great ball player. Ty Cobb is still a most remarkable player and there are many good judges who believe that Carson Bigbee of the Pirates was the best last year. This speaker was one of the greatest, but his legs have gone back on him.

"Why is it, if Tom Gibbons is such a great fighter, that he is a walking but meet set-ups?"

Eddie Kne, Gibbons' manager, claims that he can't get any kind of matches but his opinion might be considered biased. Tex Rickard, however, says that he has had Gibbons signed to an agreement for more than a year and can get no one to meet him.

"Is Gene Tunney still the American light heavyweight champion since Mike McTigue won the world's championship?"

Along the line of reasoning that champion is always a champion until he drops his title in actual ring combat, Tunney is still the champion. It is hard to figure that Mike McTigue, an American, could be champion of the world and not champion of America. The only way to settle the question would be to put both of them in the ring.

Envyment.

Great men, taken up in any way, are profitable company. We cannot look, however imperfectly, up to a great man, without gaining something by him. No nobler feeling than this of admiration for one higher than himself dwells in the breast of man.

—Caryle.

Cornish Tin Miners.

The men who work in the Cornish tin mines are a class by themselves, and all their differences are adjusted by the stannary courts, as they are called from the Latin word stannum. These curious courts have existed in their present form since the middle of the Thirteenth century, and, in a simpler form, much earlier, and the miners claim to be free from all other jurisdiction, "except in matters affecting the land life or limb."

AT THE PRESBYTERIAN CHAPEL

FRIDAY 7:30 P. M.
Miss Helen Streeter, secretary Woman's Board of Home Missions, will speak informally of her missionary experiences. Those who heard Miss Streeter this week at the Woman's Missionary Convention in Tyrone can promise a rare treat. Miss Streeter is a woman of vivid and magnetic personality and her talk will be of interest and constructive value to all who hear her. Let us have the chapel filled with men, women and young people.

SCOUT MOVIE HERE FRIDAY

The official Girl Scout movie, "The Golden Eaglet," will be shown at the Globe theatre Friday, April 13, afternoon and evening. Next to the actual evidence of scouting on exhibit continuously by the local troops, this is the best demonstration of the aims and activities of the movement.

The film is obtained from the national headquarters and will be given at two afternoon and two evening shows. Mr. Hartman is co-operating generously and has a splendid film, "The Lure of Egypt" to accompany it at a figure much shaded in sympathy with the cause. The staff have arranged this primarily as an advertisement of the kind of work they have been doing since late September and all who have any degree of interest in the Girl Scouts of Clearfield will wish to see it. Prices are ten and fifteen cents for afternoon, fifteen and twenty-five for evening.

TROOP NINE ON A HIKE

Girl Scout Troop 9 hiked on Tuesday afternoon to the Clearfield Creek bridge, going down to the site of the old bridge. There on the rocks they found a clever place to build the fire which was lighted, according to the manual, with the use of one match only. Everything came as it should till the rain put the fire out, so all hiked back to town again, finishing the hot dogs in the kitchen of the captain, Mrs. Herbert Jury.

Some Curious Beliefs.

In the south of England it is believed even now that the eating of herring's brains gives one beauty. The monks of the Tenth century had an idea that the ashes of burnt flies were good for the complexion.

STUMPT?

FROM childhood up, we meet stumps every day of our lives.

They either stump us, or we stump them. The more successful we are in jumping stumps, the less we are stumped by stumps.

The most important stumps to watch are those that stump the maintenance of good health.

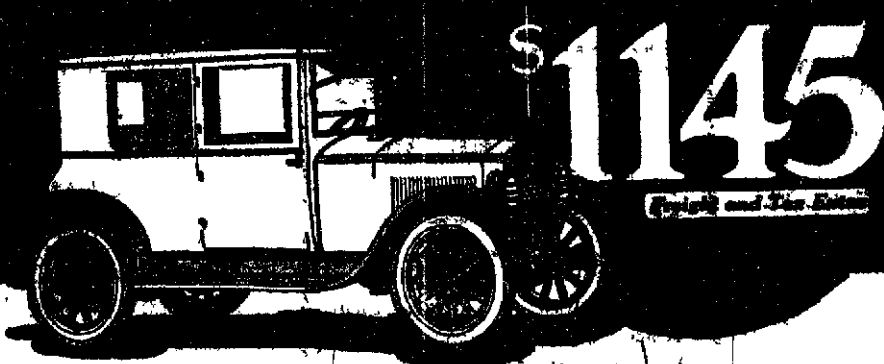

When Nature sounds her warning and indicates unmistakably the location of a stump—HEAD NATURE.

When the mouth tastes bad, breath is foul, stomach distressed, brain foggy, eye dull, remember Beecham's Pills will clear away the stumps of indigestion, constipation and biliousness.

For 50 years this famous family medicine has stumped disorders of stomach, liver and bowels to hold their grip on man, woman or child.

MODART Always Front Laced CORSETS

That "Something" You Either Have or Haven't in Dress

Many a woman is accepted or rejected long before one catches the color of her eyes. Hatted, booted and gowned in the height of fashion, yet something either is or isn't lacking in the ensemble. Men sense it, but only women will tell you that the missing "something" is—the proper corset.

What a simple thing to achieve those lines of grace—that is, if you know the secret. And the secret is a Modart Corset.

Such a splendid garment is the Modart, so individual in design, so free, so personal in its feeling, that there isn't any corset like a Modart.

Think of the pure joy of possessing such a corset that makes others conscious of the effect, but never reminds you of the fact that you have it on.

A corset as speedily designed as the Modart should be individually fitted to your figure. In our Corset Department we render this service without obligation.

When you are one of those lovely corsets—just the right Modart which sets perfectly to your figure, you will realize that a Modart Corset is the one corset for you.

THE INK FISH

Corner him and he will not fight fairly but fills the water with ink and escapes under cover of the blackness.

The same thing is true of people who fight any issue unfairly. They make statements that befog the issue, muddy the clear water of thought and make their escape in the blackness of the doubt they have created.

NUCOA

The Healthful Spread for Bread

is out in the open on its own merits. It is made from the clean, pure, rich fat pressed from the snow-white meat of the coconut. The purest milk is added. The flavor is delicate and delicious.

The child who drinks a pint of milk a day, eats leafy vegetables and eggs and plenty of bread spread with Nuccoa is getting food for growth, food for energy, food for thought.

"The substitution of the necklace," he explained.

"I learned down and felt a sudden thrill of apprehension. The necklace, which was twisted around its setting of ivory satin, was one which I had never seen before."

"My pearl necklace has been taken within the last half-hour," I exclaimed. "This is a most curious coincidence."

"Which has been substituted?" the detective asked.

"The detective first closed the door and then came back into the room. Besides myself and my companion, Mr. Harold Greys, there were present a very charming girl called Patricia Kindersley, a great friend of mine, and an elderly lady, Mrs. Phillipson, and a calm, solid-looking man who was a complete stranger to me."

"Dear me," the latter exclaimed, "this is very distressing. A great many people have passed in and out during the last half-hour."

"It is only within the last half-hour," the detective said.

gers, "to wish you all the happiness which I am sure you deserve."

They passed out, without any undue haste, laughing and talking to one another. The detective hurried away, on the track of some fresh inquiry. I moved back, urged by some irresistible impulse, to the case where the imitation pearl necklace was lying. For the first time I noticed a little label attached to it. I turned it over and read two words, written in a familiar handwriting: "Michael's Gift."

Suddenly Norman came hurrying in, already changed into a gray tweed traveling suit. He thrust his arm through mine and swung me toward the door.

"Janet dear," he said, "you have exactly a quarter of an hour."

"One question, please," I begged. "Did you ever know a Colonel Escombe in the Indian Army?"

"Never in my life," he answered. "I saw the detective hurrying toward us and I clutched Norman's arm."

"Norman," I whispered, "suppose the necklace—"

"Well, dear," he answered, "suppose it was stolen?"

His grasp on my arm tightened. "I shouldn't care a hang, sweet."

RAILROADS OF NATION SPENDING ONE BILLION, FIVE HUNDRED AND FORTY MILLIONS ON NEW EQUIPMENT IN 1923

New York, April 5.—More than $1,500,000,000 is being spent by railroads through the country for new equipment to prevent possible paralysis of traffic this fall.

In announcing an appropriation of $440,000,000 for new engines, freight and passenger cars, trackage and other equipment, railroad executives attending the conference of the American Railway Association here today also announced adoption of a program to facilitate traffic movement until the peak is passed this fall.

Booms And Slumps; How To Beat Them

President's Unemployment Conference Makes Report And Suggests Remedies

By JAMES T. KOLBERT
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, April 5.—Nine remedies for preventing recurrent periods of business "depressions" and unemployment were suggested in a report of a special committee appointed by President Harding's unemployment conference about a year ago to make study of this problem.

The report was made public by the White House. The suggestions were:

1. Control of credit expansion by banks generally.
2. Possible control of inflation by the Federal reserve system.
3. Control by individual business men of the expansion of their own industries.
4. Control of public and private construction, including construction by public utilities, at or near the peak of the business cycle.
5. Construction of public works in the depression.
6. Unemployment reserve funds.
7. Federal and state employment bureaus.

Commenting on the report, Secretary of Commerce Hoover said:

Broadly, the business cycle is a constant recurrence of irregularly created booms and slumps.

The general conclusion of the committee is that as the slumps are in the main due to the wastes, extravagance, speculation, inflation, overproduction, and inefficiency in production developed during the booms, the strategic point of attack, therefore, is the action of these evils, mainly through provision for such current economic information as will show the signs of danger and its more general understanding and use by producers, distributors, and banks, inducing more constructive and safe policies.

"Furthermore, the committee has developed some constructive suggestions has to the deferment of public work and construction work of large public service corporations to periods of depression and unemployment, which, while in the nature of relief from evils already created, would tend both by their subtraction from production at the peak of the boom and addition of production in the valley of depression toward more even progress of business itself.

Contribute to Stability.

"The report does not suggest panaceas or economic revolution but seeks to drive home the facts that the enlargement of judgment in individual business men as to the trend of business and consequent widened vision as to approaching dangers will greatly contribute to stability and that the necessary information upon which such judgments can be based must be systematically recruited and distributed.

"The investigation, shows that many firms have pursued such policies and have come through the recent period of business disaster with success and stability and that ignorance of determinable facts accounts for the disasters to many others.

"The whole problem belongs to a vast category of issues which we must as a nation confront in the elimination of waste if we are to maintain and increase our high standards of living. No waste is greater than unemployment, no suffering is keener or more fraught with despair than that due to inability to get jobs by those who wish to work."

Warrants Probably Next Step Against Income Tax Dodger

Washington, April 5.—More than 200,000 warrants against tax dodgers probably will be issued by the federal government in an effort to force the prompt payment of hundreds of millions of dollars in back taxes. By this concentrated effort throughout the country the tax dodgers may be so swelled that a large part of the government's financial obligations for this fiscal year may be wiped out. Full reports of collections made are not expected until late in the month.

CARNARVON DIES OF INSECT BITE GOTTEN IN TOMB

Cairo, Egypt, April 4.—The Earl of Carnarvon died peacefully at 2:00 o'clock this morning. He was unconscious almost to the end. His death was due to blood poisoning through the bite of an insect with the later development of pneumonia.

A Conan Doyle's Theory.

New York, April 5.—Powerful "elementals" or spirits placed on guard by Egyptian priests to protect the tomb of King Tut-an-kh-amun have caused the death of Lord Carnarvon, discoverer of the Pharaoh's resting place, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle declared here today.

These "elementals," Sir Arthur, world's most noted exponent of spiritualism, explained, are not spirits in the ordinary sense in that they have no souls. Conan Doyle declared the ancient Egyptians knew more of occultism than do moderns.

"The ancients were very anxious to protect the tomb of their kings," Conan Doyle stated. "There is reason to believe that they placed 'elementals' on guard and such may have caused Lord Carnarvon's death."

WILLING TO BE WET TO WIN. IT IS SAID OF THE DEMOCRATS

Washington, D. C., April 5.—An old-fashioned "wet and dry" fight is now looming up as the real bone of contention in the next Democratic national convention.

An increasing number of Democratic politicians, who, a few months ago shivered at the mere suggestion of a wet plan, are giving more and more consideration to the question of inserting a declaration for modification of the Volstead act in the party's platform.

Their strategy is based on the belief that victory can be won by a combination of the solid south with the thickly-populated states of the east where "wet" sentiment refuses to die out.

Beyond all doubt the wet movement within the Democratic party will cause William Jennings Bryan as leader of the dries to make another of his great fights for a "bone-dry" platform.

MAN FLOGGED BY BAND OF MASKED MEN HAS UNTIL TEN O'CLOCK TONIGHT TO LEAVE MACON FOR HOME IN N. Y.

Macon, Ga., April 5.—Lynwood J. Bright of New York, who was flogged by a band of masked men must leave town before 10:00 p. m. today or he will be made to suffer further punishment by the whipping party.

Bright and Mrs. Frederick Pace of New York were forcibly taken from the latter's automobile, placed in another machine and driven to a lonely spot on the edge of Macon where the man was beaten with a horse whip and the woman forced to look on. Then the pair were left to walk back to town.

Mrs. Pace stated she had been told the flogging was administered because Bright allowed a negro to testify for him in his divorce suit Tuesday.

YOUNG WOMAN OF CURWENSVILLE TAKES OWN LIFE

Following Quarrel With
Husband, Who She Hit
On Head With Poker,
She Takes Fatal Potion

HAD STORMY LIFE

Should "21" marry "60"? That question seems to have been answered negatively by the very unfortunate outcome of a domestic quarrel in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Bainie at Curwensville which occurred Monday evening and terminated in the death of Mrs. Bainie at the Clearfield hospital yesterday afternoon.

Monday evening the couple had a very violent quarrel at their home on what is known as the "South Side" of Curwensville. It is said that they quarreled frequently and had done so ever since their marriage something over a year ago. During this quarrel the young woman hit her spouse over the head with an iron poker, cutting a gash in his head. Her husband pulled himself together and started over town for medical attention and to have his wife arrested for assault.

During his absence the infuriated woman drank a quantity of cyanide treated lye. When her plight was discovered a physician was summoned who saw at a glance that her efforts must be made to save her life and she was immediately sent to the Clearfield hospital where last she expired late yesterday afternoon.

Her husband, Alex Bainie, is a man of about sixty years of age. His not his family name but one assumed because of the pronunciation of real name being difficult. He was only 22 years of age when he died and was only 21 when married. The disparagement of age and the allegation that her marriage was prompted by parental desire and arrangement is said to have led to a very unhappy existence.

Mrs. Bainie's maiden name was Josephine Simcoekey. Her parents lived at Curwensville. The remains were prepared for burial by Funeral Director Doverspike of Curwensville and the funeral will be held from Curwensville Catholic church tomorrow morning at nine o'clock with interment in the Clearfield cemetery.

CITIZENS OF THIS STATE WILL VOTE ON BIG BOND ISSUE

Minister Lays Down Ten Excellent Items For The Guidance Of The Young

Boston, April 4.—"When, Who and How to Marry" was the title of a sermon delivered to his congregation recently by the Rev. Arthur T. Brooks of Dudley Street Baptist church, Roxbury.

In the sermon Dr. Brooks expounded five don'ts for men and a like number for women. Those for the men were:

- "Don't marry a pretty face—sweetness and character are preferable."
- "Don't marry for fun—marriage is a God-given, serious contract."
- "Don't think you are marrying an angel—your girl is as human as you are."
- "Don't marry merely a pair of winged feet—they do not usually harmonize with the kitchen floor."
- "Don't have long engagements—they're wearing on the poetry of life."

Following are his don'ts for women:

- "Don't marry a man to reform him—better women than you have failed on that job."
- "Don't marry 'a-dashing-good-time' sort of chap and expect happiness. A steady-going, temperate man wears better in double harness."
- "Don't marry a 'meal ticket' unless you have to. God meant you for better things. Keep your self-respect."
- "Don't marry except on a 50-50 basis—remember in the twentieth century you are as important as your man."
- "Don't marry for money—love is always the best."

LIES SENT FATHER TO JAIL

Girl Confesses She Perjurated Because He Was Strict.

Kansas City, Mo., April 4.—Dolly Kemp, 15 years old, plotted the fictitious evidence which sent her father, Isaac Kemp, of Wolcott, Kan., to the Wynadotte county jail for a year's imprisonment last January.

She concocted the tale, she says, all because her father discovered she played with boys instead of going to church.

The girl made the statements to welfare officers when she learned she was to be sent to the house of correction. Petition for the parole of her 50-year-old father has been filed.

"Pa never let me play with the boys after he learned I didn't go to church," Dolly said. "He made me mad, and so I began to lie to the neighbors about how bad he treated me."

Dolly charged her father with assault. Backed up by neighbors, Dolly's testimony sent him to jail.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c.

Clean Kidneys By Drinking Lots of Water

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys If Bladder Bothers or Back Hurts

Eating too much rich food may produce kidney trouble in some form, says a well-known authority, because the acids created excite the kidneys. Then they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region, rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, begin drinking lots of good water and also get about four bunches of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to neutralize the acids in the system so that they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts can not injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

OVER ONE HUNDRED ATTEND CONFERENCE ON CHILD WELFARE

Over one hundred people attended the sixth Inter-County Institute on Child Care held today at the Hotel Fort Sanwix, Johnstown, under the auspices of the State Department of Public Welfare.

The luncheon meeting was addressed by Dr. Ludwig E. Bernstein, Executive Director, Federation of Jewish Philanthropies, Pittsburgh. Dr. Bernstein vigorously emphasized the responsibility of Boards of Trustees in relation to the dependent children whose care they have assumed.

The morning session was opened by a roll call of delegates. Miss Mary S. Labaree, Director of the Bureau of Children, who presided, explained that this was one of a series of Inter-County Institutes being conducted throughout the State in an effort to build up a better mutual understanding between the State Department and private agencies and to help in determining minimum requirements of child labor.

The chief address of the morning session was on "Knowing Our Children" by Mr. David J. Terry, Executive Secretary, Children's Service Bureau, Pittsburgh. He emphasized the importance of a thorough knowledge of the individual child before deciding upon admission to an institution as well as a basis of intelligent care during its stay.

Attention was called to the fact that the Bureau of Mental Health of the Department of Public Welfare is establishing mental health clinics throughout the State and already has twenty-two clinics in operation. These in the section represented at the Conference are at Altoona and Greensburg with others under advisement. A study of the mental capacity and behavior problems of children will be increasingly possible as a help to many agencies in the study of their wards.

The chief speaker of the afternoon was Miss Emily F. Morrison, Sleight Farm, Darlington, Delaware Co., whose topic was "Children's Records vs. Financial Records." She made a plea for the same accuracy in keeping of children's records as institutions usually desire for their financial records.

Sleight Farm has annually one record system and Miss Morrison drew upon her experience with this system in emphasizing the part records can play in the intelligent planning for each child. She demonstrated that it is not just a matter of filing away data but the means of supplying a definite help in making decisions for the child's future.

The Johnstown Public Library co-operated by sending books helpful to Managers of Child Caring Institutions and Agencies.

Mr. John F. Landis, Secretary of the Johnstown Associated Charities, has been assisting with the local arrangements.

The next Inter-County Institute will be held in Philadelphia on April 25th.

A FINE LETTER ON THE GOLDEN WEST

Los Angeles, Calif., March 27.
Just as in the days of yore,
There is romance in a smile,
There is gladness every mile,
As modern emigrants understand
And passing wave a hand—
Recalling travels of pioneers gone before.

After one has crossed our country by automobile, viewing first hand the different communities along the way, which patriotism makes you love as you do your native one, motor tours over the most wonderful network of surfaced highways the world has to offer soon inspires you with a desire to participate in the progress of a marvel city, whose building construction for the past year has mounted over eleven and one quarter millions. Such is Los Angeles which embraces a great part of Los Angeles county excluding the mountains.

Citizens here are imbued with the enthusiastic spirit of accomplishment, which is difficult to understand even when its effects are observed. It takes mammoth enterprise and wonderful energy to build towns in several months, about the hem of the Lady of the Angels skirts.

Writing as one belonging to the comparatively recent arrivals, who compose the majority of our population, I'm in the "old-timer" class in spirit, you know, having become a confirmed Californian before being here a year.

After being here a number of years my impressions still have a keen edge, which time and familiarity have blunted for the pioneers of ten years or more. Progress is so rapid in this golden climate, I sense the investment advantages, in real estate especially, which make one heartsick at not having the opportunity to grasp them.

California is not fettered in a groove of habits and customs revered for decades and decades because they are conventional. There is no tread-bareness here; but rather aggressiveness, which in the end must be laudable. The centuries of traditional background way of living is not the rule here, on account of the majority of the people being new arrivals.

The real Californians, native sons and daughters' descendants of the Spanish regime and the remnant of the early argonauts, have more centuries of rich and more colorful historical background than our people living adjacent to the Atlantic seaboard. However, the consummation of the early activities here was not so glorious as in the forming of the hub of our republic.

It certainly must be that the people here do not realize that their civil, commercial and greatly increasing industrial activity is making history in this golden harvest section which is destined to foster five million souls within a remarkably short time.

It is little wonder that the world has taken note of Southern California's progress, her harbor being next in imports and exports to that of Boston.

A culture is here nurtured which shall add to the spiritual welfare of the community. From whence do you wish to derive your inspiration? Shall it be from Los Angeles and Orange counties of Southern California? It is a glorious privilege to live here, and I trust my stay shall be prolonged, until in ripe age I may

Head or Tail?
Do you know it is possible to tell whether a spinning coin will land head or tail? Before spinning the coin make a small nick at one of the edges, so that a tiny point of metal protrudes. Suppose the nick has been cut on the edge of the head side. If the coin is spun it will settle down gradually in the ordinary way if the notched side is upward, but should it be underneath, the notch will make a sound as it strikes the table and the coin will settle down quickly.—Tit-Bits.

Don't Get Up Nights
This Symptom Tells You There Is Danger Ahead. J. H. Dorton Relieved at Seventy.

J. H. Dorton, W. Graham, Va., says: "I was told that getting up nights was a disease that belonged to old people. I have found different. I have taken Little's Backache Kidney Pills a short time and now I am normal. I had to get up 7 or 8 times a night. I have been troubled for 40 years. Will gladly tell anyone personally." Little's Backache Kidney Pills act on the kidneys and bladder like a magnet on the bowels. It cleans them out, relieving the bladder of many abnormal deposits. These which are useful for relief. The formula is possible to place in the formula several drops on the package. It is not likely you have ever taken anything similar. Try a few tablets for backache, swelling, scanty or high-colored urine, and frequent desire at night. Be sure to get the Keller formula. Little's Backache Kidney Pills, or write Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsville, O., or locally at Stewart's Drug Store.

Curwensville's Own Column

Curwensville council met in regular session Monday evening and finished up the budget that had accumulated during the month of March. Those who answered roll call were President Hest, Sweney, First Ward, and Moore Edwards, and Smeal, Second Ward. The minutes of a previous session were read by Secretary Dale and no objections or corrections to the same arising were approved.

No report was presented by street committee relative to the work to be done adjacent to the ice factory by Harvey Cook & Son on Filbert street, hence the committee was continued and asked to make a report on the same at May session.

Paul M. Mitchell who is establishing a public garage on Filbert street, was present and asked permission to put in a gasoline tank long curb line in front of said building. Was informed that he could put one in at his own risk, same as others had done, but council refused to give sanction to permit as endorsed by that body.

Messrs. C. O. Norris and John Pifer were present and asked council if there was a possibility of having Thompson street paved this summer from intersection of State street to the turn at Come cry and George streets, the work to be done on the same conditions and basis as that done on Walnut at set last fall. Council asked that a petition signed by the residents and property owners on said street be presented and that the same would be given due consideration by that body.

A citizen who is erecting a dwelling house on Meadow street asked for a drain from his property to connect with one at foot of Thompson street. Action deferred until said petitioner consult with adjacent property owner, and then report results to Councilman Smeal.

Complaint from a citizen on Irvin street that he was complying with all borough requirements and that he had no privileges such as light, fire protection or police protection, for all of which he was paying his share of taxes. Asked council to intercede with J. O. Griffith to do certain things in order that improvements to property could be advanced.

R. K. Way asked that a certain portion of North street, paralleling his lot, be improved by a terra cotta drain, in order that water accumulating in the ditch might be taken care of. Referred to street committee, who will meet with Mr. Way and go over the proposed line and ascertain just what can be done.

Burgess Erhard was present and asked that a better fire alarm system be installed, the old one being inadequate and unreliable. Suggested that an electric siren system be put in and one that could be connected up with both telephone offices. He also asked privilege of putting up two large signs over sidewalk at the gas station. This council refused as ordinance prohibits placing signs overhead on sidewalks. The placing of posts at the turntable was also voted down. Secretary authorized to have posters printed and stuck up at convenient points near gas station, reading "No turning here under a heavy penalty."

Councilman Edwards reported that the Bartelle & Dotz garage on Filbert street are not complying with a request to keep the sidewalk free from obstruction nor the alley a free passageway.

Committee appointed at March session to examine into the condition of certain water plugs made no report on same and were continued until that duty be performed.

Councilman Sweney reported that sewer committee had engineers go over the ground of the proposed underground sewer on Scofield street and as soon as arrangements could be closed with land owners along said line, work would be started.

Complaint was made of the condition of the railroad crossing near the Elk tannery, it being in a dangerous condition for horses and vehicles.

Street commissioner instructed to examine drain, reported by Councilman Smeal, located on the south end of Susquehanna avenue, the same backing water and forcing damper under state highway.

Paul Dale, Anderson street, asked permission to lay a terra cotta drain in front of his property, the expense to be borne by him individually. Referred to street committee.

Councilman Sweney, representing the Fire Department, asked council to purchase two play pipes, one electric lantern and one record book. A street spray nozzle was also asked for to be used in flushing the streets. Both requests granted and purchase ordered.

The question of street repair work was brought up and after explanation and discussion street commissioner was ordered to make same leading from B. R. & P. station to the borough line down state highway.

Communication read as coming from the owner of the water company, asking for a new contract with borough, either by contract or on rate system. Mr. Thompson asked to meet with council at some future meeting to discuss the matter.

Barnhoof asked permission to establish a mail box on Bloomington avenue. Granted, provided that same does not in any way interfere with traffic on that portion of the highway.

A resolution was passed unanimously that street commissioner be directed to remove all ashes and other debris from the streets and alleys, the same to be charged to the account of the property or those responsible for it being there. The street commissioner will enforce this resolution most rigidly.

A general clean up week was decided on, the time being at the same date Clearfield is engaged in that work. There will be six days of this campaign, each day being devoted to the cleaning up of some particular job. One day devoted to cellars, the next to yards, lots, etc., until everything is spick and span all over town.

Bills were presented and ordered paid as follows: Rorabaugh Agency, balance, $3,961; Curwensville Cemetery Co., 1921-22, $150.00; H. & C. T. & H. Co., $39.33; Fern Public Service Co., $248.43; Rescue H. & L. Co., $,00; C. Q. Morris, coal, $17.19; Curwensville Electric Co., $16.00; street commissioner, $100.00; Police-man Clark, $100.00; road work, labor, etc., $39.91.

The Dorabough agency will soon vacate their room in the Robison house and occupy a more convenient suite in the Spencer block, corner of State and Filbert streets.

Mrs. William Able died at the Clearfield hospital yesterday afternoon. She was the wife of the manager of the A. & P. store here, and during her residence in this town made many warm friends. Her body was brought to her home in Curwensville.

Mothers and daughters will hold a meeting on Friday afternoon at 2:30 in the Presbyterian church. Mrs. Helen Streeter of the Woman's Board of Missions from New York will speak.

Do You Know?

BY UNITED PRESS

Who is the best outfielder in the major leagues?

A BETTOR
It is all a matter of individual opinion, there is no standard way of determining all the factors that enter into a great ball player. Ty Cobb is still a most remarkable player and there are many good judges who believe that Carson Bigbee of the Pirates was the best last year. This Sinker was one of the greatest, but his legs have gone back on him.

"Why is it, if Tom Gibbons is such a great fighter, that he is a walking but meet set-ups?"
M. E. T.
Eddie Kne, Gibbons' manager, claims that he can't get any kind of matches but his opinion might be considered biased. Tex Rickard, however, says that he has had Gibbons signed to an agreement for more than a year and can get no one to meet him.

"Is Gene Tunney still the American light heavyweight champion since Mike McTigue won the world's championship?"
B. C. R.

Along the line of reasoning that champion is always a champion until he drops his title in actual ring combat, Tunney is still the champion. It is hard to figure that Mike McTigue, an American, could be champion of the world and not champion of America. The only way to settle the question would be to put both of them in the ring.

Australian "Pearl Farm."
A curious farm is that situated in Torres straits, at the most northern point of Australia. It is known as a "pearl farm" and covers about 5,000 square miles. As a matter of fact, this farm is a plateau covered with shallow water, and there are found more than 250 persons irregularly employed in gathering oysters, from which pearls are taken. These pearls are sold in London for almost a quarter of a million dollars.

Pictures and Frames.
Those old picture frames that go begging around the attic or cellar may be made into some of the delightful new models with little trouble and less expense. Old white enamel or oak frames may be treated as follows. With a bit of glass carefully scrape off all the enamel or polish. Sandpaper it to a smooth finish with a fine grade sandpaper and later with a finer grade. For a soft brown print the frame will be just right at this stage. Some of the newest picture frames that are finding place in the best shops show no stultic or color of any kind. Artists claim that the decorative frame detracts from the beauty of the picture within.

Small Birds Form Great Colony.
Extraordinary methods are adopted by the little society birds of South Africa in building their nests. The birds are no bigger than a canary, and each pair builds a mud nest of diminutive size. But thousands of them nest in the same tree, and each year a new nest is built, until the branches are covered. Eventually the weight of the nest becomes too great for the tree, and the colony falls; or all available space is occupied and a new colony is started on a tree that is situated nearby.

Envy.
Great men, taken up in any way, are profitable company. We cannot look, however imperfectly, up to a great man, without gaining something by him. No nobler feeling than this of admiration for one higher than himself dwells in the breast of man. —Caryle.

Cornish Tin Miners.
The men who work in the Cornish tin mines are a class by themselves, and all their differences are adjusted by the stannary courts, as they are called from the Latin word stannum. These curious courts have existed in their present form since the middle of the Thirteenth century, and, in a simpler form, much earlier, and the miners claim to be free from all other jurisdiction, "except in matters affecting the land life or limb."

SCOUT MOVIE HERE FRIDAY

The official Girl Scout movie, "The Golden Eaglet," will be shown at the Globe theatre Friday, April 13, afternoon and evening. Next to the actual evidence of scouting on exhibit continuously by the local troops, this is the best demonstration of the aims and activities of the movement. The film is obtained from the national headquarters and will be given at two afternoon and two evening shows. Mr. Hartman is co-operating generously and has a splendid film, "The Lure of Egypt" to accompany it at a figure much shaded in sympathy with the cause. The staff have arranged this primarily as an advertisement of the kind of work they have been doing since late September and all who have any degree of interest in the Girl Scouts of Clearfield will wish to see it. Prices are ten and fifteen cents for afternoon, fifteen and twenty-five for evening.

TROOP NINE ON A HIKE

Girl Scout Troop 9 hiked on Tuesday afternoon to the Clearfield Creek bridge, going down to the site of the old bridge. There on the rocks they found a clever place to build the fire which was lighted, according to the manual, with the use of one match only. Everything came as it should till the rain put the fire out, so all hiked back to town again, finishing the hot dogs in the kitchen of the captain, Mrs. Herbert Jury.

Some Curious Beliefs.
In the south of England it is believed even now that the eating of herring's brains gives one beauty. The monks of the Tenth century had an idea that the ashes of burnt flies were good for the complexion.

STUMPT?

FROM childhood up, we meet stumps every day of our lives. They either stump us, or we stump them. The more successful we are in jumping stumps, the less we are stumped by stumps.

The most important stumps to watch are those that stunt the maintenance of good health.

When Nature sounds her warning and indicates unmistakably the location of a stump—HEAD NATURE.

When the mouth tastes bad, breath is foul, stomach distended, brain foggy, eye dull, remember Beecham's Pills will clear away the stumps of indigestion, constipation and biliousness.

For 50 years this famous family medicine has stumped disorders of stomach, liver and bowels to hold their grip on man, woman or child.

MODART Always Front Laced CORSETS

That "Something" You Either Have or Haven't in Dress

Many a woman is accepted or rejected long before one catches the color of her eyes. Hatted, booted and gowned in the height of fashion, yet something either is or isn't lacking in the ensemble. Men sense it, but only women will tell you that the missing "something" is—the proper corset.

What a simple thing to achieve those lines of grace—that is, if you know the secret. And the secret is a Modart Corset.

Such a splendid garment is the Modart, so individual in design, so free, so personal in its feeling, that there isn't any corset like a Modart.

Think of the pure joy of possessing such a corset that makes others conscious of the effect, but never reminds you of the fact that you have it on.

A corset as speedily designed as the Modart should be individually fitted to your figure. In our Corset Department we render this service without obligation.

When you are one of those lovely corsets—just the right Modart which sets perfectly to your figure, you will realize that a Modart Corset is the one corset for you.

MICHAEL'S WEDDING
GIFT

BY E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

Copyright, 1923, by E. Phillips Oppenheim
Artist NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Vendetta begins between Michael and the Greys. Michael, a noted criminal, and Sir Norman Greys, one of Scotland Yard's best men, are in a bitter feud. Michael's beautiful housemaid, Janet, is the key to the mystery. She is not only a witness to Michael's crimes, but also a lover of Sir Norman. The story is a thrilling tale of crime and passion.

NOW GO ON WITH STORY

Janet Takes Up the Story: You know, I told him, "You for that I told him."

"Janet," he interrupted, "that's the letter of the law, but we can't do that. We could undertake, would bring Ladd back to life. It's wrong law for the rest, I have seen to that. For the rest, you must follow as I have followed."

"I killed him, Norman," I faltered. "I have killed men myself in my day," he replied, "and I shall probably kill Michael. If he is still alive, before our accounts are finally settled. That affair does not concern us any longer. You acted on a momentary impulse. You were protecting the man whom you fancied at that time, you cared for."

"I was doing more than that," I told him. "I was avenging myself. I was a stupid girl in those days—but I had ideas. No man had ever kissed me upon the lips. He took me unawares. If I had had the weapon in hand then, I should have killed him without any other thought."

"I saw a look almost of content in the face of the man I loved. I always guessed that there was something of the sort," he said.

"To immediate question is, when are you going to marry me?"

"I suppose I was, but all we want are weak when the man they love is dead. Just as I was, in my shabby clothes, we went out to a restaurant in Soho and dined. All the time we made plans, or rather he made plans and I listened. My long story was at an end. We were to be married almost at once, to travel for a time in Italy, Egypt, to travel as I had longed to visit—and then, I was to settle down in the country and forget."

"We were crowds of people at the house in Southwell Gardens when a Norman's sister was giving a reception for us after the wedding. Eve, my friend, was wonderfully nice to me, and I made new friends at every moment. Just as I was warned that it was time for me to go and change into my traveling gown, an uncle of Norman's, a Mr. Harold Greys, asked me to show him the pearls which had been Norman's present to me. I took him at once into the little room where the wedding gifts were set out. There was a small gathering of guests there, nearly all of whom were known to me. At the far end of the room, seated in a chair and apparently taking little interest in the proceedings, was the detective who had come from Scotland Yard to watch over the jewelry."

"I know that you have only a moment to spare," Mr. Greys said to me. "I will just look at the pearls and go off."

"I pointed to where the necklace was lying in its case. My companion glanced downward, frowned, adjusted his eyeglasses, dropped it and turned to me with a little smile."

"Quite a reasonable precaution," he observed, "but was it necessary with a detective in the room?"

"I don't understand," I told him, a little bewildered.

"The substitution of the necklace," he explained.

"I leaned down and felt a sudden thrill of apprehension. The necklace, which was twisted around its setting of ivory satin, was one which I had never seen before."

"My pearl necklace has been taken within the last half-hour," I exclaimed. "This has imitation one which has been substituted."

The detective first closed the door and then came back into the room. Besides myself and my companion, Mr. Harold Greys, there were present a very charming girl called Patricia Kindersley, a great friend of Norman's, an elderly lady, Mrs. Phillipson, and a calm, soldierly-looking man who was a complete stranger to me.

"Dear me," the latter exclaimed, "this is very distressing! A great many people have passed in and out during the last half-hour."

"It is only within the last half-minute," the detective said.

"Poor Colonel Escombe!" SHE EXCLAIMED, PASSING AN ARM THROUGH HIS. "HE HATES WEDDINGS."

have moved to the farther end of the room. May I ask, Lady Greys, if everyone here is known to you?"

"Miss Kindersley, certainly," I replied, "and Mrs. Phillipson. I don't think I have met you, have I?" I added, turning to the man.

He looked at me with a rather peculiar smile. "I cannot say that he actually reminded me of anyone; yet something in his appearance filled me with a vague sense of uneasiness."

"I fear that I have not yet had that honor, Lady Greys," he acknowledged quietly. "Your husband, however, is an old friend. My name is Escombe—Colonel James Escombe of the Indian Army."

"If you are unknown to Lady Greys, I must ask you to remain until Sir Norman arrives," the detective said.

Beatrice Kindersley, who had been standing looking on, suddenly began to laugh.

"Poor Colonel Escombe!" she exclaimed, passing her arm through his. "Why, he is one of Dad's oldest friends. He hates weddings and all sorts, but I persuaded him to come here with me because he had met Sir Norman in India once. Please, Lady Greys, may I take him away? We promised to call for Dad at his club, and we are half an hour late already."

The detective was obviously disappointed. I murmured something conventional and shook hands with both.

"I may be permitted, although a comparative stranger," Colonel Escombe said as he bent over my fiancée.

"The Mystery Advertisement," tenth story of this remarkable series, will begin in our next issue.

gers, "to wish you all the happiness which I am sure you deserve." They passed out, without any undue haste, laughing and talking to one another. The detective hurried away, on the track of some fresh inquiry. I moved back, urged by some irresistible impulse, to the case where the imitation pearl necklace was lying. For the first time I noticed a little label attached to it. I turned it over and read two words, written in a familiar handwriting: "Michael's Gift."

Suddenly Norman came hurrying in, already changed into a gray tweed traveling suit. He thrust his arm through mine and swung me toward the door.

"Janet dear," he said, "you have exactly a quarter of an hour."

"One question, please," I begged. "Did you ever know a Colonel Escombe in the Indian Army?"

"Never in my life," he answered. "I saw the detective hurrying toward us and I clutched Norman's arm."

"Norman," I whispered, "suppose the necklace—"

"Well, dear," he answered, "suppose it was stolen?"

His grasp on my arm tightened. "I shouldn't care a hang, sweet, if it was stolen, so long as we are not in half an hour and I have you all to myself for the rest of the night."

Michael Positives: With the best genius in the world I cannot foresee all contingencies. It has always been my practice to have something to Fate. How I wish I was going to get out of the house in Southwell Gardens, if the theft of the necklace were discovered before I could get away by natural means. I had been quite unable to decide. Fate, however, settled the matter for me. I left with flying colors, rescued by the girl with the steadfast eyes, whose lips had mocked at danger on the precipices of the Forest du Dom.

"Where to?" she asked, as we took our places in her automobile. "To the British Museum Tube, if you can take me so far," I answered. She gave the order to the chauffeur through the speaking-tube. Then she leaned back in her place. Her expression puzzled me.

"You are disturbed?" I ventured. "I am unhappy," she answered. "You regret your intervention?" She shook her head.

"It is not that. You stole the pearls."

"Of course I did," I admitted. "You are a thief?" "I never pretended otherwise," Her eyes filled with tears.

"I will give you that credit," she confessed bravely. "Can I—would it be possible for me to buy the pearls from you?"

"For what purpose?" I inquired. "To return to Lady Greys, of course. Don't you see that I am partly responsible for their loss?"

"My dear young lady," I said earnestly, "the pearls are yours, with pleasure. I told them because the dramatic side of the theft appealed to me. Norman Greys and I are old enemies. He has hunted me as only an old acquaintance. His wife is an old acquaintance. It flattered my vanity to attend his reception unrecognised and to help myself to his wife's pearls. Allow me."

I took off my silk hat and laid it upon the opposite seat. Then I passed my hand slowly over my hair, pressed the top of my skull and handed her the necklace. She looked at me with her eyes wide open in wonder.

"I appreciate your surprise," I told her. "As a matter of fact, this false top to my head is one of the most ingenious things my friends in Paris ever made for me."

The car pulled up outside the Tube station. The girl held out her hand. "I think that you are a very terrible but a very wonderful person," she said. "Anyhow, I like to think that I have paid a part of my debt."

The madness had me in its grip. I lifted her fingers to my lips. I laughed at my folly, because she made no effort to withdraw them. "The whole of it is paid," I told her as I turned away.

PICTURETIME

IS HERE NOW

You have probably had your kodak on the shelf for the winter, but the time is now here when you will want to take it out with you as you start your spring rambles thru wood and dell.

You will find that an Eastman Kodak will do all that you ask of it within reason and we have them from the little vest pocket size up to the larger ones
—the popular post card size.
